Jorge Zeballos was born in Washington, DC, but grew up in Lima, Peru. He holds a B.A. degree in Political Science from Rutgers University and a Master’s degree in Organizational Management and Development from the Fielding Graduate University. He currently resides in High Point, NC, and is a community organizer at the Institute for Dismantling Racism in Winston Salem as well as the Latino Community Coordinator and International Student Advisor at Guilford College in Greensboro. Mr. Zeballos is also an independent diversity consultant with years of expertise conducting workshops, presentations and leading long-term diversity initiatives at K-12, colleges and universities, international and national conferences, and non-profit organizations.

Latino Community Coordinator and International Student Advisor at Guilford College, Greensboro, NC

A LANGUAGE IS A TERRIBLE THING TO WASTE

The Division of Student Affairs and Nu Iota Chapter of Alpha Mu Gamma National Collegiate Foreign Language Honor Society

Proudly present the NATIONAL FOREIGN LANGUAGE WEEK

Featured Speaker: Mr. Jorge Zeballos

Wednesday, March 14, 2012 1:00 pm CLC Ballroom

Refreshments will be served at a reception following the program.

For more information or questions, contact Dr. June C. D. Carter 864 503-5881.